Cairo police choose Renault for vehicle fleets

After winning a contract on June 15 to renew the Cairo police vehicle fleet, Egyptian International Motors, Renault's official and exclusive importer in Egypt, has now completed the delivery of some 500 vehicles, of which roughly 300 Renault Logan MCVs and 200 Renault Logans.

The agreement is another mark of the trust placed in Renault and its vehicles, particularly in terms of quality, reliability and safety. The decision of the Cairo police force was also motivated by the strong service quality of Renault's after-sales network.

This development confirms Renault's place as the leading European make in Egypt and its position as the main rival to the South Korean brands.
